

The Society for General Psychology

APA DIVISION 1

Div. 1 (The Society for General Psychology)

promotes the creation of coherence among psychology's diverse evidence based specialties, other scientific disciplines and the humanities. It encourages analysis of the merits and challenges of bridging concepts, methods, and theories. The Division seeks to foster understanding of individual and social life in the nexus of historical, societal, cultural, genetic, neural and other biological processes. Members include students, researchers, scholars, practitioners and public interest psychologists; they receive a subscription to the Division's quarterly journal, Review of General Psychology[®] and to its Newsletter, The General Psychologist, and are eligible for Division grants.

Benefits of Membership

- Subscription to The Review of General Psychology, Division 1's journal
- Subscription to The General Psychologist, the Division 1 newsletter
- Eligible for The Mary Whiton Calkins Grant supports the research of faculty who teach at primarily undergraduate serving institutions.

Visit us at

www.apadivisions.org/division-1

To join online go to

www.apa.org/divapp

Visit us at
WWW.APADIVISIONS.ORG/DIVISION-1

To join online go to
WWW.APA.ORG/DIVAPP

The Society for General Psychology

APA DIVISION 1